wary Church, Harlem, was called to order yestermorning at 9 o'clock. Presiding Bishop John fount Morris Baptist Church, Harlem; the Rev. William W. Foster, jr., of the Troy Conference; the Rev. Dr. T. B. Neeley, of the Philadelphia Conference; the Rev. Dr. Asbury Lowery, the Rev. Dr. J. W. Hamilton, secretary of the Freeman's Aid and Southern Educational Society; the Rev. C. F. Grimm, of this city; the Rev. Dr. A. B. Leonard, corresponding secretary of the Missionary Society; also the Rev. Bishop J. N. Fitzgerald.

A cable message was received by the Rev. Dr. A cable message was received by the Rev. Dr. George E. Strobridge, of Poughkeepsie, saying that his daughter, Miss Mabel Strobridge, a recent graduate of Wesleyan University, was dying in Rome, Italy, where she is visiting her sister, the wife of Carl B, Hurst, son of Bishop John F. Hurst, and American Consul at Crefeld, Germany. Prayers were offered by the Conference in her behalf, and a message of sympathy was sent to Dr. Strobridge and his family.

American Consul at Crefeld, Germany. Frayers were offered by the Conference in her behalf, and a message of sympathy was sent to Dr. Strobridge and his family.

The following resolution was offered and passed: Whereas, Owing to the composite character of American population and the growing complications of our National life, it is vitally important that the spirit of patriotism should be fostered until it becomes the unifying bond of citizenship, and Whereas, One of the most effective means of doing this is to exait the flag of our country; be it Resolved, By the New-York Conference, representing a constituency of 200,000: First, that the Legislature of this State be urged to pass the bill now before it providing that no flag but the National emblem shall be raised over any public building; second, that the Legislature should emact a law requesting that the American flag shall float on every school house in the State, and that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the Senator having this bill in charge.

The resolution was signed by the Revs. C. C. McCabe, A. J. Palmer, George W. Miller, Clarke Wright and Newton Ray.

Last Friday evening the Church Extension Society's anniversary was held. The society has had a wonderful career. It began its work in 1864 and has helped build 9,300 churches, worth upon an average of $2,000, thus creating church property worth $18,600,000. The conference adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock to-morrow morning.

THE REV. MR. NELSON WAS ADMITTED. BROOKLYN METHODISTS HESITATED BECAUSE HE WAS IN DERT-BUT THE FACT THAT HE HAD A SALARY OF ONLY $300

A YEAR GAINED HIM A BIG MAJORITY.

The New-York East Conference convened promptly at 9 a. m. yesterday. The list of successful candidates for ordination as elders included Julius Nelson, Roxbury, Conn. A protracted and lively discussion was brought out when action was taken on the name of Mr. Nelson, it being asserted that he was in debt. After many speeches and considerable excitement, the matter was referred to a special committee. This committee's report showed that, while Mr. Nelson had been careless in his payments, his salary was only $300 a year, and he was compelled to keep a horse, since his parish included three churches, and was obliged to drive from fourteen to thirty-eight miles every Sunday. from fourteen to thirty-eight mines every standy. Profound interest was aroused in his case through the addresses of the Rev. Dr. J. M. Buckley and his presiding eder, ex-President John W. Beach, of Wesleyan University, who spoke in his favor. Finally the Rev. Mr. Nelson was elected to elder's orders by an overwhelming vote. Owing to his poverty, feeble appointments and a consecutive service for a period of nineteen years, a collection for his benefit was ordered which amounted to $206.89.

Mr. Nelson was conducted to the platform amid a tumult of applause, and introduced to the Conference by Bishop Fowler.

Professor Upham, of Drew University: the Rev. Dr. Spencer, of the Church Extension Society, the Rev. A. Ben-Oilel, missionary at Jerusalem, were introduced to the body.

In the evening the anniversaries of the Education Society and the Church Extension Society were observed, and addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. C. H. Payne and the Rev. Dr. Spencer.

To-day a large number of the visiting delegates will preach in churches of various denominations situated in New-York, Brooklyn and elsewhere. Profound interest was aroused in his case through

A fire broke out on board the Old Dominion steaming. The steamer was at her pier, having arrived the night before from West Point, Va. The fire started in the forward coal-bunker in the lower hold. It was extinguished after half an hour's hard work. The cargo over the coal-bunker had to be removed and a hole cut in the deck before the fire could be reached. As soon as the hole was cut a hose was run in and the compartment flooded with water. The damage was slight. The origin of the fire is not known, but is supposed to have been due to spontaeous combustion.

The schooner William E. Clowes arrived here yes-Santiago on February 24, and on February 28 went seven hours, and then, after jettlsoning 300 bigs of sugar, got off and put into Nassau for repairs. She left Nassau on March 21, and after leaving that port experienced a succession of heavy gales from all around the compass, with high and confused seas.

In an advance statement Mr. Kempner says that the record he has compiled will be a startling revelation. Croker will be handled without gloves, but with strict adherence to facts. The samplet will contain fourteen chapters, the final chapter being headed: "Where Did He Get His Wealth?"

In closing, the statement says: "Boss Croker is the embodiment of the robber system under which we suffer. Besides he is king pin in the Tammany howling alley. If he can be knocked down, the satellites who surround him will be scattered helterskelter with the same blow."
